The Roman expansion in Italy covers a series of conflicts in which the city-state of Rome grew from being the dominant state in Latium to become the ruler of all of Italy. The first major Roman conquest in historical times came with the final defeat of her Etruscan neighbour Veii in 396 BC. In 390 BC, Celts from the north of Italy sacked Rome.

The science of brain development is providing concrete evidence that there is real power in play. While often dismissed as "just fun," play is the vital activity that children use to learn about and interact with their world, and gain the mental, physical and social skills necessary to succeed in their adult lives.
